

We All Have a Voice!

Campus Empowerment Program

VALUE YOUR VOICE AND VISION! SHARE WITH THE WORLD

We All Have a Voice! empowers students as leaders for powerful social change.

Supporting teachers, sponsors, and students who are passionate about making a difference in their school community and helping others, this program provides diverse curriculum and training opportunities.

We All Have a Voice! workshops empower students with leadership skills, helping them gain the confidence to speak up for themselves and share their ideas. Students learn to tell the story of who they are and the story of their school. They work in teams to identify the needs of their fellow students and teachers. These teams learn to develop, propose, organize, document, bring to life, and celebrate creative Service Learning projects as solutions to specific needs in their school community. Students experience the power of their voice in action.

Comprehensive workshops and curriculum empower teachers and sponsors with effective strategies to organize and manage a student movement. Step-by-step lesson plans prepare teachers and sponsors to facilitate campus-wide Service Learning projects. Teachers learn how to integrate brain research, engagement, literacy and life skills.

We All Have a Voice! Service Learning projects, in action right now, include:

- Conversation Spaces
- Mirror Messages
- Adopt a Freshie!
- Sidewalk Talk
- Appreciation Walks

Are you ready to stand up and speak out? Start a movement at your school!

Your school community needs you! We All Have a Voice! is looking for 20 schools and 300 students who are ready for special team-building and training at Summer Leadership Workshops. Students and teachers are empowered with skills and tools to transform the world at their schools, impacting the lives of thousands of people.

This is the change we need in our schools and the world!

Melinda Forward, NBCT

Program Director, We All Have a Voice!

Melinda is a powerful teacher and presenter with 25 years of experience in education who understands the needs of students, teachers, and schools. She develops curriculum and trains teachers and school districts nationwide in her unique strategies for creating a positive classroom culture. She is also the author of the forthcoming book: Voices from the Wall.

As the sponsor of the first We All Have a Voice! project in Albuquerque, Melinda knows how to organize and guide students through projects with effective step-by-step lesson plans she designed. She is passionate about helping students gain confidence to speak up in different situations and create change with enthusiasm. This passion drives her development of the We All Have a Voice! program. She is committed to spreading her message to schools around the world.

Mission:

Inspiring and Empowering Young Adults to have the confidence and courage to share their unique voices and change the world as leaders for social change.
